GENERAL MANAGER

CLIFF FLETCHER

Dynamic, shrewd, aggressive in hockey dealings were some of the character traits associated with Sam Pollock, former General Manager of the Montreal Canadiens' organization, whose presence in their draft was still felt this past June in Montreal with the Habs' first round draft choice.

Flames General Manager, Cliff Fletcher, still only 45 years old displays in hockey a tremendous likeness to the way in which Pollock operated and possibly for good reason. The two men worked together for 10 seasons in the Canadiens' organization before Fletcher left for St. Louis in 1967 to serve as the Blues chief scout for Eastern Canada, followed in 1969 with an appointment to the position of the Blues Assistant General Manager. During his four years with the Blues, the team never failed to make the playoffs and were Stanley Cup finalists three years in a row.

Cliff has been afront the Flames' organization ever since their inception in the NHL in 1972, with his team qualifying for post season action in just their second season. The Flames made the playoffs the last five years in a row and six of their eight seasons in the league.

No other team has been as active in player movements in the last two seasons as Fletcher and company strive for the right combinations. Eleven players off last season's roster will play somewhere else this season replaced by players in key positions. The Flames will benefit in the long run with the security of future drafts and considerations; the key to building a contender for years to come.

Cliff and wife "Boots" have two children, Chuck and Kristy. They reside in Springbank.

ASST. GENERAL MANAGER

DAVID POILE

If one were to list NHL people according to their accomplishments and age, the name David Poile would undoubtedly appear at the top of the list. Just 32 years old, David has spent all of his post-university days with the Flames' organization. The result has been an intense and successful working arrangement between himself and Cliff Fletcher, rewarding his ambition with added responsibilities each year to include much of the daily operation of the team, overseeing the Flames Central Hockey League farm club in Birmingham, plus related involvement in the Calgary Wranglers and New Westminster Bruins Junior teams in the WHL.

David comes by his hockey expertise and knowledge naturally. His father, Norman "Bud" Poile, the current president of the Central Hockey League, played in the NHL for six seasons, served as General Manager for both the Philadelphia Flyers and Vancouver Canucks, as well as the vice-president of the World Hockey Association.

David's playing days mostly centred around Northeastern University in Boston, which he attended on a hockey scholarship for five years, serving as the team's captain and leading scorer for two years. During his last year of hockey at Northeastern, he was the leading scorer in the E.C.A.C. (Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference). Upon graduation from Northeastern with a degree in Business Administration, he attended the Vancouver Canucks training camp, but elected to pursue the managerial side of professional hockey.

David, wife "Liz" and their two children, Brian and Lauren are making their year round home in Calgary.

COACH

AL MacNEIL

Head Coach Al MacNeil has one full year under his belt as the on-ice boss of the Flames and is looking forward to his second year with great anticipation.

"I don't think that we had a great year last year. Our big problem was inconsistency; we just weren't consistent." MacNeil is referring to the fact that the 1979-80 Flames had some difficulty coming up with the big game on home ice, and often played better on the road. Unlike many clubs which sport a considerably better home record than road record, the Flames only managed to collect 43 of their total 83 points on home ice.

However, with some personnel changes from the team that finished the 1979-80 season with a 35-32-13 record (9th overall in the standings) and a new home, MacNeil sees all that changing. "Just coming into this area will be a tremendous boost for us. Although I don't think the Corral will be an overwhelming advantage for us, it may have a negative effect on visiting teams."

MacNeil retired as an NHL player in 1968 after eight seasons with Toronto, Montreal, Chicago, Pittsburgh, and the New York Rangers. He began his coaching career in 1968 with the Houston Apollos, Montreal's top farm team. In December of 1970 he took over the Canadiens' coaching responsibilities and coached the Habs to the Stanley Cup. The following six seasons Al spent in Nova Scotia with the Voyageurs finishing in first place four times, winning the Calder Cup three times. MacNeil was also Assistant Coach of Team Canada '76 when Canada defeated the Soviets.

Al and wife Norma have two children, Allison and Allister. They enjoy the off season in Big Pond, Nova Scotia.

ASSISTANT COACH

PIERRE PAGÉ

Thirty-two year old Pierre Page is the team's new Assistant Coach. He replaced Tim Ecclestone, who elected to remain in Atlanta for business reasons.

"Pierre has great hockey knowledge. He is innovative and extremely proficient at improving a player's natural skills. There is no question that he will be a tremendous asset to our organization," states Coach Al MacNeil.

Born in Lachute, Quebec, Pierre left his position as Professor of Physical Education and head hockey coach at Dalhousie University in Halifax to accept this position. He had been with the University since 1971 and according to Dr. T.L. Maloney, Director of the School's Physical Education program, Pierre is individually responsible for transforming an almost non-existent hockey program at Dalhousie into one of respect across the country. In 1978-79 Dalhousie was ranked number two in Canada and it was the first time a Dalhousie team won the Maritime championship in sixty years. Last season Dalhousie finished first in the AUAA for the first time in forty years.

Pagé and MacNeil worked together in Halifax when Al coached the Voyageurs. Pierre can be given partial credit for the improved performances of current Montreal players Pierre Mondou, Rich Chartraw, Doug Risebrough, and Flames own Guy Chouinard. He was a guest instructor at the Canadian Olympic Hockey Team training camp last summer.

Pierre and wife Donna make their off season home in Halifax.

HISTORY OF FRANCHISE

The Calgary Flames Hockey Club, formerly the Atlanta Flames, received a hearty western style welcome to their new home at the Stampede Corral in Calgary last May. When it was announced by new majority owner Nelson Skalbania on May 21 that he was transferring the franchise to the Alberta center, Calgarians lined up en masse to buy season tickets to see the Flames play in the smallest building in the National Hockey League, housing only 6,488 seats, plus 755 standing. When the smoke cleared, applications for well over 10,000 season tickets had been received and oddly enough, nearly everybody who applied received something in the way of season tickets. This was accomplished by allocating some "half season" ticket packages, thereby accommodating twice as many people for some of the seats, and also by selling standing room season tickets.

The Flames immediately began construction on temporary office headquarters outside the Corral. Renovations also began inside the Corral in readiness for the historic first game scheduled for October 9th against the Quebec Nordiques. Our 10 gallon hats off to the Stampede board for their understanding and co-operation in making necessary preparations.

The Flames only expect to be using the Corral for two seasons. On July 3 it was announced that the province of Alberta, the City of Calgary, and the federal government, will join forces to supply Calgary with a new 18,000 seat or larger Coliseum, construction of which is slated to begin in March of 1981.

Let there be no misunderstanding please! The Calgary Flames are not an expansion team; they were in 1972 when a group of businessmen ventured into the south with professional hockey in Atlanta, Georgia. Good seasons were to follow with Cliff Fletcher serving as the team's General Manager since the inception of the franchise on June 6, 1972. The team understandably missed the playoffs their first season, but qualified in only their second year in the league (1973-74) and a total of six times of their eight years in Atlanta. Average attendance displayed a promising future: 12,516 their initial season, increasing to 14,162 their second before commencing an almost steady decline to an average of 10,024 last year.

Why Calgary? you might ask. Why not is a better question. Is there a city in all of North America that is growing and prospering like the home of the world's most celebrated stampede? Calgary is growing at an average of 2,000 people per month and the present population of 550,000 plus is expected to hit the 1,000,000 mark by the turn of the century.

The logo is symbolic of the Flames aspirations in the National Hockey League. The Flames, as mentioned, qualified for the playoffs six of eight seasons, but have one major hurdle to overcome — getting by the preliminary round of the Stanley Cup playoffs. The Flames' logo, which was chosen from 58 professional entries, represents the hopes of Flames fans ecstatic Calgarians and saddened Atlantans.

THE MOLSON CUP

The Molson Cup three stars evolved from one of NHL hockey's oldest traditions ... the selection at game's end of the three players judged most valuable in a particular contest. The Molson Cup was born to add substance to the star selections, to reward consistently high levels of performance and to recognize major contributions to the team's success over an entire season.

New to the Calgary Flames this season, The Molson Cup will be initiated to award the Calgary Flames' player who achieves the greatest number of points from these three star selections. Players from the Flames will be awarded five points every time they are chosen as a star by a media selection panel of a regular season game. The contest will be divided into five segments: October and November/December/-January/February/March and April. Cash awards will be presented following each segment of the contest.

The first and second place finishers in these segments will receive $1,000.00 and $500.00 respectively.

The overall winner will be awarded the prestigious Molson Cup along with a check for $1,000.00. The overall runner-up will receive $500.00. For all five segments, as well as the final standing, any ties for first or second place will be broken by choosing the player with the greatest number of first star selections.

Flames general manager Cliff Fletcher expressed the organization's pleasure at having The Molson Cup as a key element in Calgary's first NHL season. "The recognition of our players in a three-star competition that carries a significant benefit to them and to us, as well as being of keen interest to our fans, is one more indication of Calgary's solid hockey tradition and bright hockey future."

MEDIA INFORMATION

CREDENTIALS

Space in the Corral as you may expect is limited. Permanent credentials will be restricted to those individuals who cover the games on a regular basis as part of their work requirements. Single game passes may be available depending upon availability by calling the Flames Public Relations Department at 233-8383. No temporary (single) game passes will be issued the day of the game. All such requests must be received by 5:00 P.M. the day prior to the game.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Permanent credentials will be issued where deemed necessary. Photo space is available. Contact the Flames Public Relations Department for any unusual requests.

Free lance photographers granted temporary photo-passes are required to provide six 8x10 black and white prints to the Public Relations Department free of charge.

COMMUNICATIONS

Transmission will be available to out of town press via Can-fax on a game to game basis.

the Bay
The Bay and the Calgary Flames . . . a winning combination
Thinking ahead to a winter of activity and fun? . . . So are we! That's why we've stocked our stores with the latest in sports equipment and clothing . . . Watch for our Flames shop. It's going to be open soon! . . . So when you're thinking of winter sports . . . Remember, it's hard not to think of the Bay!
